BANKS HOLDING COIN FOR TAXES

Local Money Market is Rather Tight. This Week in Consequence.

DEMANDS FOR BUILDINGS.

Taken All in All Considerable Sums Are Being Called for-General Business Review.

The local money market is rather fight this week because of the heavy demand accentuated by the continued epen and pleasant weather which is burrying building and other construcfive operations to completion, and which call for considerable sums of eash. Of course on such occasions, the banks are able to demand gilt-edged collateral; but just at present, there is another reason for conservatism in advancing loans, viz., the fact that depositors will be shortly drawing on their accounts more or less heavily to meet their tax obligations, so that it is incumbent on the banks to maintain a fair sized cash reserve, which is being done. One bank, for this reason, has refused the past week to grant any loans, preferring to keep its cash on hand. Most of the delegates to the bankers' convention at Chicago are still in the east, Mr. Hill having re-turned home as the weather down east was not to his liking.

FARMERS CALL FOR FUNDS. Henry Clews says in his last circular

The strength in the money situation will not be surprising to the readers of these advices last week. The agriral sections are now actively call ing on their eastern correspondents for funds to finance the great agricultural products and are severely depleting the products and are severely depleting the bank reserves at this center; but it is still fair to assume that a large part of this money will be released before mercantile channels require its most extended use. On the other hand our large banking interests and some of the most powerful market operators bare again been borrowing in London and on the continent; and the advance and on the continent; and the advance is money rental rates that has taken place this week has materially increased our foreign indebtedness. Cable idvices from all the prominent financial centers of Europe indicate award wide awakening to the real money situation, and best information pagests that the days of superabunfance in the money supply have fefnitely ended for this season. The money situation, therefore, suggests money situation, therefore, suggests prudence and discrimination. Remunerative interest rates for the banks are not necessarily a handicap to an up-ward movement of important dimentions, especially if such rates are the result of improved conditions in trade and industry. Aside from the iron and Industry there is, however, slight indication of any general trade recup-eration. But in the particular in-stance in question the improvement is laking on almost unbridled activity and may well be permitted to counter-act deficiencies in other directions." HARDWARE OUTLOOK.

The hardware trade reports a big in sporting goods, such as shot guns, rifles, ammunition, hunting cloth-ing and hunting camp supplies. Dealers believe this is to be a great hunting season, calling for the heaviest output the history of the heaviest output or sleds and skates by the retail stores the cold spell has stimulated trade particularly, also, in the line of stoves and stove furnishings, and the first or-lers for holiday goods are beginning to be received. Builders' hardware is still going out, the call bein, for the better grades, as construction opera-lions are likely to be in full blast for everal weeks to come. CAR SHORTAGE.

The lumber trade reports the situa-ion quiet, with no perceptible change rom the provious week. There is no improvement in the matter of car hortage, and none in sight. However, sufficient stocks are arriving to keep the local yards supplied so there is no

WHOLESALE DRY GOODS. The local wholesale dry goods trade reports a steady tendency towards refraes in prices. Hopes of lower figperts from the cotton crop which is join from the cotton crop which is laid to be short and poor, so that a fize of 15 cents in the next 60 days is talkipated. There is a steady output of seasonable staples for the retail lade. Jobbers report a firm cotton-bods market—firm as a whole, though hith some notable irregularities, and with some notable irregularities, and but prices lower than those paid on saturates. Fabrics having the best putation as to quality have been best demand. In heavy cottons the output be look has been the highest for some rears, owing to the efficiency of labor fellowing the panic. Wide print cloths are active, with the price basis better than that of the narrow plain goods. Plain fine goods have been quiet for the past week, but with singus of a rehan fine goods have been quiet for the past week, but with signs of a reiwakening in napped cottons for quick felivery. Eastern ginghams are strong, with leading lines well sold ahead by agents. The trade reports remarkable rougess made in dyeing fast colors on botton goods and yarns, so that purfies, pinks and pastel shades will stand kundering and general wear as well as sandering and general wear as well as my of the other colors. In worsteds, andering and general wear as well as my of the other colors. In worsteds, bobers report there has been such a side adulteration that many retailers refer to carry the distinctly fine qualities of cottons and the better lines of sorteds in their dress goods departants, and allow the trade in other lalities to drift in other directions. Sation populars, pages and reps are poplins, pongees and reps are a steady sale in nearly all Fancy imported quilts have bought freely while domestic are gulet.

FALL OPENINGS. retail dry goods trade reports a week than the corresponding of the previous year. The fall are practically all in, and the weather is making business pick. The opening sales are now "the One large house has been living models which brought 4,000 the opening sales are now "the One large house has been living models which brought 4,000 to the establishment in one day, a manager states. Twenty-four chairs had been provided, but did not begin to accommodate moveds. The cooler weather has be-to stimulate trade, making buying in to stimulate trade, making buying core general along winter lines.

GO WITH A RUSH. The demand for that wonderful homach Liver and Kidney cure, Dr. Cing's New Life Pills—is astounding. C. M. I. say they never saw the like. Its because they never fail to like Sour Stomach. Constipation, Inlication, Billousness, Jaundice, Sick fleadache, Chilis and Malaria. Only its.

TAFT IN COLLEGE DAYS.

Parties acquainted with the president say he is able to carry around his great weight, 340 pounds, with comparative case because of his unusually heavy frame, and remarkable natural muscular strength. Early in the first term of his fresh-man year at Yale he was the "big injun" in the annual rush between the two lower classes. His class easily overpowered the '77 sophomores, and in the wrestling bouts that followed. Taft, stripped to the waist, threw every '77 wrestler that was pitted against him.

In an altercation occurring in the Chesapeake cafe last night between Frank Fehrenbach and, according to his statement, the son of the proprietor, Fehrenbach was severely beaten and left lying on the sidewalk in front of the cafe. Fehrenbach said he had been employed in the cafe and in a row with the young man had been assaulted and thrown into the street.
